Dosing Units

ECOMIX and ECOSHOT

Anglian Chemicals offer a range of chemical dosing and diluting systems designed for the professional hygiene industry.

ECOMIX is a proportioner. Connected to mains water, it creates a vacuum and dilutes a pre-determined ratio of chemical into a final solution, ready to use.

ECOSHOT is a manual dosing system, dosing a specific volume or shot of concentrated chemical into a spray bottle, a bucket or a sink.

Although different systems, ECOMIX and ECOSHOT provide an efficient, flexible on-site system, both enabling the end customer to create ready-to-use chemicals, from concentrates. Sharing the same innovative features, both systems offer a one-stop cleaning station thanks to their flexibility, reliability and easy maintenance.

	ECOMIX	ECOSHOT
Installation	Requires mains water connection with pressure between 20 and 70 psi	Simple to install with minimal tools
Setting Chemical Dosage	Set during installation according to the environment	Consistently accurate regardless of the environment
Precision	Accurate dilution regardless of bottle or bucket size	Precise dilution requires consistent measurement by the operator
Operation	Simple push button with lock-on feature for the filling of larger receptacles	Push button with initiation feature prevents mis-dosing. Delay mechanism avoids over-dosing. Training required
Maintenance	Dilution rates and filters should be checked/maintained according to the environment and usage	No regular maintenance required, spare parts available if abused
Variations	Low-flow 4L/min High-flow 14L/min	Sink, spray bottle or bucket version

Help
Reduce
Your
Carbon
Footprint

Diluting chemicals at the point of use and sourcing water locally minimises transport costs and carbon emissions.

Precise dosing measurements minimise chemical wastage, providing cost-in-use benefits.

Re-using the same trigger spray bottle reduces waste packaging*

1 pouch of concentrated chemical = 75 RTU trigger sprays

Dosing Units

ECOSHOT Chemical Dosing System

ECOSHOT is a manual chemical dosing system which can dispense various volumes of concentrate into a bottle, bucket or a sink.

- 3 versions - spray, bottle, sink
- Simple twist and push operation
- Built in flexible delay function

ECOMIX Chemical Dilution System

ECOMIX is a unique chemical dilution system. Connected to mains water, it dilutes a pre-determined ratio of concentrates into a final ready-to-use solution

- 2 versions - high/low flow
- Simple push operation
- Suction from any size container

Super Concentrated Dosing Chemicals

Anglian Chemicals have created a range of innovative super concentrated chemical formulations and teamed them up with an equally innovative bottle/dosing mechanism.

The chemicals themselves have very high dilution rates (100 doses per 1L bottle) which helps cost conscious customers control each litre of product they require.

The bottles are overturning convention and introducing something more simple, more accurate and more effective than the old squeeze type dosing bottles. A simple turn of the bottle upside down sends the liquid into the dosing chamber leaving behind the correct dosage. All that remains is to pour out the liquid and dilute, taking advantage of the no spill and tamper evident safety features.

- Super concentrated chemicals
  - Very low cost in use
  - Quick and easy to use
  - No squeezing required
  - No spill / dribble design
  - Tamper evident top
